DIRECTOR'S STATEMENT

The dolphins initially lived on Earth more than fifty million years ago as air breathing land dwellers. They became enchanted by the oceans of the world, and eventually evolved to live under the sea. They are the most efficient swimmers in the world, swimming five times faster than the speediest human being. Their brains are larger than the human brain, with a capacity 40% greater, making them one of the most intelligent creatures on Earth. The dolphins have been part of our culture, embedded in the human psyche since the beginning of time. Ancient Greeks have depicted them on coins, saving children from drowning at sea. They are famous for helping fisherman in times of need, saving humans from attacks of the great white sharks, and celebrated in paintings, sculptures and various art forms across the planet.

But no one has ever talked to them and seen the world through the eyes of the dolphins... until now.

My goal is to pull from the sea a story that has never seen the light of day for want of a teller. The dolphins and their destiny have always fascinated me. It is time for the legend of the dolphins to be told.

NAYA Legend of The Golden Dolphin tells a tale of legendary proportions, portraying the strange, spectacular destiny of these powerful and emotionally involving characters; a tale rich in beauty, courage, humor, mystery, and messages to humanity.

Predators hunt them and pollution of their environment endangers them.

There has never before been a comprehensive 3-D CGI Animation portraying the beautiful legend of the dolphins in an enchanting adventure throughout the oceans of the Earth.

A CONVERSATION WITH THE DIRECTOR, JONATHON KAY

How does one become the director of a film like “NAYA Legend of the Golden Dolphin”?

I always wanted to make a film on dolphins.

I was inspired to make this beautiful film about ten years ago when he traveled to Lanai for the very first time with two children and their parents, who had natural healing experiences swimming with wild Hawaiian Spinner Dolphins. One five year old girl had a pituitary gland problem causing her growth to be impeded. After receiving the benefits of natural dolphin sonar emissions in the warm waters of Napili Bay, she experienced an amazing recovery. The second girl that came to Lanai with Jonathon was a German girl with Cerebral Palsy. She experienced substantial improvements in mobility from her natural ocean adventure on Lanai.

Experiencing this healing taking place, and the wonderful benevolence of the dolphins touched my heart and inspired him to create NAYA LEGEND OF THE GOLDEN DOLPHIN. The spirits of the dolphins touched my soul. It was at this point that I was inspired to make the film.

How did “NAYA Legend of The Golden Dolphin” evolve?

I started this project about five years ago, and slowly over months it began to take shape. It all started with doing extensive research on dolphin sonar and the awesome healing encounters of children and adults alike, whom I met with on the island of Lanai.

I continued swimming with the Spinner Dolphins on the Hawaii and experienced many fantastic encounters with them, and was fascinated by the remarkable effects of dolphin sonar on the human body and mind. I researched countless stories over a two-year period with various children who had had miraculous healing encounters with dolphins. Now I was committed to make a 3-D CGI Animation on the dolphins.

The story evolved from healing encounters to become an animation of rare adventure and exploration into the lives of the dolphins around the world, their message to humanity and the importance of their survival. I was on an awesome adventure.

What do you think are the greatest challenges and menaces for the dolphins?

One of their greatest predators is the shark in Australia, Bimini, and South Africa. South Africa and Australia is the home of the Great White Shark and dolphins are on its menu. The Tiger Sharks in the warm waters surrounded the Island of Bimini have attacked and killed young dolphins separated from their parents and wounded dolphins many a time.

Sharks can bite off the dolphin's long bottlenose and mouths until they bleed to death.

But by far, the largest dangers for dolphins are the humans. Fishing nets are like curtains of death to the dolphins. Nets both for commercial or sport kill a million dolphins a year. Sadly the Hector's Dolphin tribe of New Zealand has become an endangered species, primarily due to drowning in gill nets.

Other challenges for the dolphins and their survival are pollution, fish farms, plastics being thrown into the sea, various forms of garbage, chemicals poisoning the dolphins... noise pollution is another challenge for the dolphins. Many attribute the beached dolphins in Australia to the dolphins being disorientated by artificial sonar from navy ships or from various forms of noise pollution, which impede their navigational abilities and echolocation.

It is my sincere hope that upon seeing this film, international audiences will voice their concerns about the importance of the conservation of the environment of the oceans and the rivers of our planet, and participate in encouraging a series of measures to stop the destruction of the underwater domains of the dolphins and all life under the sea before it is too late.

Why do you think the dolphins are the most intelligent species on the planet?

My experience with the dolphins has shown me they have incredible levels of intelligence. The dolphins have an unusually large brain. An average adult Bottlenose Dolphin possesses a 1.7 kg brain, while the human brain weighs on average only about 1.4kg. A dolphin's brain is not only big but also complex with large brain hemispheres remarkably extended circumvallated on the cortex. I've filmed first hand the dolphins' hunting for food using their sonar. They can "see" through sand, matter and even human bodies, similar to Superman's X-ray vision. They use their sonar to find fish to eat that live deep in the sand. They can also use their sonar to see tumors inside humans swimming beside them and to see the baby inside a mother's womb. The dolphins can hear sounds from miles away and they can sense dangers such as volcanoes about to erupt or the start of an earthquake - any extreme condition that can affect their sustainability. There have been many times throughout history where dolphins have used their intelligence to outsmart Great White Sharks and to rescue humans from shark attacks.

In making NAYA Legend of The Golden Dolphin, I've seen the dolphins help in the healing of children, enrich the human spirit and lift it up beyond people's wildest dreams, beyond imagination.

Man has always assumed that he is more intelligent than dolphins because he has achieved so much...the wheel, electricity, gasoline powered cars, computers, the smart bomb, wars, and so on.... while the dolphins have been playing effortlessly in the oceans and rivers of the Earth, with no need to destroy or dominate the planet. Conversely, I believe the dolphins are more intelligent than man, for precisely the same reasons.

If you listen to the dolphins, you will learn the secret to man's survival: Peace.

How did you get the wonderful cast of 13 stars, including Oscar winning Kate Winslet, to voice the dolphin characters of the film?

NAYA Legend of The Golden Dolphin is an unusual film in that it was entirely created from the point of view of the dolphins. I spent much time, care and thought looking for the appropriate stars to best convey the characters and incredible spirits of the individual dolphin tribes featured in this legend. In selecting the stars to tell the story, I conducted extensive research and searched for actors that had previous encounters with dolphins and the protection of the environment of the oceans. I especially wanted actors that could tune in to the spirit of the dolphins... the magnificent beauty and intellects of the dolphins, and their messages to humanity... to record their story evoking the passion, the magic, and the charm of the dolphins of the world that unite in this film.

Kate Winslet loves the dolphins and wanted to support the conservation of the dolphins of our world. She was especially interested in the awesome healing benefits to autistic children when encountering wild dolphins. I flew to New York, where we recorded her at Outloud Recording Studios in Manhattan. Her voice is exceptionally beautiful and charming as the voice of the dolphins that come to Mozambique to make love under the sea.

The first actor who I asked to participate on the film was Whoopi Goldberg. I met her in 1988 at a dinner party hosted by Steven Spielberg and Michael Jackson in Beverly Hills, and I talked to her about the project that I had been working on at the time, Walking After Midnight. At the dinner, I had a good connection with her. Years later, I asked her to participate on NAYA Legend of The Golden Dolphin and Whoopi immediately agreed. She was amazing and it was wonderful to have her on board.

Another wonderful creative force is Julian Lennon who has a keen interest in dolphins and whales, and their conservation. He participated on the making of a film in Australia about whales and the stories of the aboriginal dreamtime, Whaledreamers. Julian's father John Lennon also has a creative presence in the film – his beautiful song IMAGINE plays an important part. Yoko Ono generously contributed the use of this song for our project.

When I was recording with Julian Lennon in New York, I wrote to Megan Fox and requested her participation. She said she would love to participate but that she was currently acting in a feature film in Santa Fe, New Mexico. We were on tight time restrictions and Megan was still going to be on filming on location for weeks. I asked that we record her that weekend. Her manager was very understanding but said there was no guarantee that Megan could do it that weekend, since she was working 16 hour days on the movie set of Passion Play. I had a really good feeling that Megan would participate on our movie. I took a chance and flew from New York to Santa Fe so that I would be there in the event she could participate. I arrived and sure enough Megan's manager called me up on Saturday and said, YES, she's available now and would love to come into the studio with me on Sunday afternoon to record the part of the Hawaiian Spinner Dolphins for our movie. It worked out perfectly. Megan's voice is amazing.

I selected actor Diego Luna to play the charismatic voice of the Boto of the Amazon, due to his wonderful mysterious voice and awesome screen presence. I asked Diego if I could record him when he and I were in Los Angeles but he was tied up at that time. He asked me to come down to record him at a studio in Mexico City, which I did. That was the farthest I had to travel to record a storyteller for this film. Diego saw the entire film and tuned in to the spirits and lives of the mysterious pink dolphins of the Amazon. He wanted this part of the film to be exceptional and it is.

For the Orcas, I wanted a strong and powerful female voice, as the women are the leaders of their tribe. I have seen the television series produced and starred in by Isabella Rossellini called Bug Porn, and I love Isabella's fabulous energy and wonderful creativity. I especially liked her performance in Blue Velvet. I wrote to Isabella and was invited to New York City to record her at the same studio in which we recorded Kate Winslet, Julian Lennon and Whoopi Goldberg.

For the dramatic sequence performing the intriguing voice of a False Killer Whale stranded on a beach in Australia, I wanted a very friendly, charismatic, and recognizable voice. One of my favorite actors is Owen Wilson. I love his voice and when I asked him to participate on NAYA LEGEND OF THE GOLDEN DOLPHIN I was very happy when I received the call saying Yes. We recorded at a wonderful recording studio in Santa Monica that participated as a sponsor of the Film. Owen's performance was outstanding and you can feel the passion and soul of the whale in his voice.

Gerard Butler stars as the King of the Golden Dolphins. I had always envisioned a Scottish actor to be the King. In searching the world for the finest Scottish voice, I listened to Gerard Butler's voice and was immediately mesmerized. I was determined to have Gerard Butler participate as the King in NAYA LEGEND OF THE GOLDEN DOLPHIN. I asked him to participate and within days I got a positive "Yes! I would love to do this." He told me about his wonderful encounters with dolphins in California on Catalina Island, which inspired him to participate on this film. The dolphins enchanted him and really touched his soul, so he really wanted to participate on this project. His voice is brilliant.

Quvenzhané Wallis stars as NAYA, The Golden Dolphin Princess.

I was searching across the globe for a child star with an enchanting voice that would endear the hearts of audiences worldwide. At the time of my search I saw Quvenzhané on the David Letterman Show participating in an interview about her accomplishments in become a household name at age 9 being nominated for an Academy Award for her starring role in BEASTS OF THE SOUTHERN WILD. I saw her magical smile, and heard her wonderful voice and knew she was the one to play NAYA The Golden Dolphin Princess. Quvenzhané told me how she has loved dolphins all her life and she was very excited to participate as NAYA.

Each of Kay's films portray stories with powerful messages to humanity, uplifting the human spirit and exploring new frontiers of consciousness. Kay is dedicated to making films that help our planet, with a primary focus on the conservation of the environment.

KATE WINSLET
ACTOR

Kate Winslet is the voice of the Bottlenose Dolphins of Mozambique, who come to these enticing waters off the coast of Africa to make love under the sea.

Oscar winner Kate Winslet is an outstanding actress with highly regarded performances that have awarded her multiple award nominations. Being the youngest person to accrue six Academy Award nominations, she received an Academy Award for Best Actress her astonishing role in The Reader and won awards from the Screen Actors Guild, British Academy of Film and Television Arts, and the Hollywood Foreign Press Association among others. She has also been nominated for an Academy Award for her supporting role in Sense and Sensibility and the highest grossing film for more than 12 years until 2010, Titanic. In 2007, Winslet reunited with Leonardo DiCaprio to film Revolutionary Road (2008).

Making a statement by participating in documentaries and environmental movements, Winslet starred in A Mothers Courage: Talking Back to Autism, an HBO documentary about a mother's journey to get answers for her child's autism. Narrated by Kate Winslet and directed by Fridrik Thor Fridriksson, this inspiring film follows one woman's quest to understand autism, a neural developmental disorder. Taking her part in environmentalism, the British actress has teamed up with PETA to narrate a new video about the evils of foie gras. Foie gras (fatty liver) is a controversial French delicacy. Clearly, this talented actress never ceases to amaze.

ACTOR

Elliot Page is the voice of the Dusky Dolphins of New Zealand, the most acrobatic dolphins on Earth, and tells the story of the Hector's Dolphins, an endangered species.

Receiving the Golden Globe and Academy Award nominations for Best Actor for his role in the award-winning film Juno, Page is a renowned young Canadian actor from Halifax, Nova Scotia. Beginning his professional acting career at the age of 10 with the TV Series Pit Pony, Page has acted in numerous successful films, such as his starring role as Katherine "Kitty" Pryde in the blockbuster X-Men: The Last Stand. Page continues to amaze audiences with superb performances, such as his lead role in Whip It, a film by Drew Barrymore. In his young career, Elliot has worked with veteran actresses such as Sarah Jessica Parker (Smart People), Catherine Keener (An American Crime), and Ellen Burstyn (Stone Angel). Next, Page will be seen on the big screen, starring with Leonardo DiCaprio in the upcoming film Inception.

Gerard Butler is the King of the Golden Dolphins.

Butler is a Scottish actor who began his acting career on stage. After occasional visits to the big screen, such as his role in award winning Miss Brown, his acting career soared when he received the lead role in 300. Butler also turned heads as Angelina Jolie's hunky love interest in the sequel Lara Croft Tomb Raider: The Cradle of Life. Since gaining international acclaim, Butler has starred in many films such as The Phantom of the Opera, RocknRolla, P.S. I Love You, The Ugly Truth, Gamer, Law Abiding Citizen, The Bounty Hunter, and How to train Your Dragon. He is currently working on Coriolanus and has recently won a Variety Award.

Megan Fox is the voice of the Hawaiian Spinner Dolphins.

Megan Fox is one of Hollywood's most sought-after young actresses, well-known for her break out starring role opposite Shia LaBeouf in Transformers, which earned her various Teen choice Awards and MTV Move Award nominations. This film, along with Transformers: Revenge of the Fallen, are directed by Michael Bay and executive producer Steven Spielberg. She is currently promoting Transformers 3. Fox recently starred in the title role of the comedic supernatural thriller Jennifer's Body, written by Academy Award winner Diabol Cody (Juno). She was most recently seen in the comedy How to Lose Friends and Alienate People as Sophie, alongside Kirsten Dunst, Simon Pegg and Jeff Bridges. Fox will next be seen in Jonah Hex, Warner Bros,' fantastical western live-action adaptation of the DC comic series, opposite Josh Brolin and John Malkovich, and she plays the lead role in Passion Play, opposite Bill Murray and Mickey Rourke. She will begin shooting the live-action feature film adaptation of Fathom later this year, in the lead role of Aspen, a beautiful marine biologist and former Olympic swimmer who discovers she's a member of a race of aquatic humanoids. Fox made her film debut in Holiday in the Sun and followed with the comedy Confessions of a Teenage Drama Queen. On television, Fox Starred in the ABC comedy Hope and Faith.

James Franco is the voice of the Indo-Pacific Bottlenose Dolphins of Australia.

Franco became internationally famous from his role as Harry Osborn in the Spider-Man trilogy. But it was his standout title performance in 2001's TNT cable biopic James Dean that really drew the attention of critics. His portrayal earned him the Golden Globe Award for Best Actor in 2002. Franco became a successful actor at a young age, first starring in a popular television series Freaks and Geeks. Franco's film debut was co-starring in the 1999 Drew Barrymore vehicle Never Been Kissed, followed by the 2000 romantic comedy Whatever It Takes. Franco is also a film director, screenwriter, film producer, and painter. Since then, Franco has been in a variety of films, including his role in The Pineapple Express where he received a Golden Globe nomination for the Best Actor in a motion Picture Musical Comedy. Franco's latest films are 30 Rock, Date Night, Your highness, Howl, Mystery White Boy, 127 Hours and Eat, Pray, Love.

WHOOPI GOLDBERG
ACTOR

Whoopi Goldberg is the intriguing voice of the Common Dolphins of South Africa, who travel in super-pods of thousands to feast on giant shoals of sardines.

Multi-award winning veteran in the Hollywood scene, Goldberg acclaims success from many careers, as a comedienne, actress, singer-songwriter, political activist and talk show host, currently host of ABC's The View. Whoopi has a Grammy, seven Emmys, two Golden Globes, a Tony, and an Oscar. Goldberg never ceased to amaze audiences with her entertaining performances. She received a nomination for the Academy Award for Best Actress and won her first Golden Globe Award for her role in Steven Spielberg's The Color Purple. For her role as Oda Mae Brown in Ghost she won her second Golden Globe Award and an Academy Award for Best Supporting Actress. Notable later films include Sister Act, Sister Act 2, The Lion King, Made in America, How Stella Got her groove Back, Girl, Interrupted, Corrina Corrina and Rat Race. In addition, she has a British Academy Film Award, four People's Choice Awards and has been honored with a star on the Hollywood Walk of Fame. Currently, Goldberg is the voice of Stretch in Toy Story 3 and plays herself in Madea Goes to Jail.

DARYL HANNAH
ACTOR

Appearing in NAYA Legend of The Golden Dolphin, Daryl Hannah spent eight days in Hawaii in underwater filming of the leaf game with wild Hawaiian Spinner Dolphins, participating in an ancient Hawaiian ceremony for the dolphins.

Mermaid, Cave girl, Pretty Woman's friend, Giant... as a little girl, Daryl liked to fantasize -- little did she dream she would play all these roles in movies, and more. Daryl's breakout role was as the acrobatic, beautiful replicate Pris in Blade Runner, proceeded by with her winsome portrayal of a mermaid in Splash, also starring Tom Hanks. She graduated from the University of Southern California School of Theatre. This tall blond beauty, with the haunting blue-green eyes, was a natural for show biz. She started with small roles, premiering in The Fury, soon thereafter she landed the role of Kim Basinger's little sister in the movie Hard Country. From this point Hannah starred in a number of Hollywood films notably Wall Street, Roxanne and appeared in Kill Bill. She was teamed with some big-name stars in the romantic comedy Steel Magnolias, with Julia Roberts. A giant achievement was starring in the 1993 remake of the 1958 classic Attack of the 50 Foot Woman, which Daryl also co-produced. Daryl's childhood dream of playing fantasy roles just keeps having a future that is brighter and brighter.

Trained for ballet but switching to acting, Hannah's career is unique from many other performers. She became interested in movies at a young age, partly due to insomnia. She was diagnosed as "borderline autistic, later to be diagnosed with Asperger's Syndrome." As much as Hannah is an icon in American cinema, she's also become a key player in the environmental movement. She loves dolphins, believes that all dolphins should remain free, and is strongly against any dolphins being held in captivity. Hannah is a strong environmentalist on all levels, and promotes eco-friendly lifestyles including the use of bio-diesel. Her bed is made of "gorgeous" lichen, a moss-like substance that she rescued from a rock under the foundation of her house.

JULIAN LENNON

ACTOR

Julian Lennon is the voice of the Spotted Dolphins of Bimini, an island in The Bahamas, which is said to be the location of the lost continent of Atlantis.

Successful in many areas, Julian Lennon produced the documentary WhaleDreamers, which received many awards including Best Documentary at the Fantasy Worldwide Film Festival in Toronto, Canada. Lennon has recently completed work on his new album Everything Changes. Obvious from his last name, Lennon is the first son of John Lennon from The Beatles. As a child, Julian directly inspired the title of one of his father's most famous songs, "Lucy in the Sky with Diamonds", whose lyrics describe a picture Julian drew, a painting of a girl. Later, Paul McCartney wrote "Hey Jude" as a way of consoling him because of his parents' divorce. "Hey Jude" was meant to be "Hey Jules", but McCartney changed the name because he thought "Jude" was an easier name to sing. Although, Lennon is a singer, songwriter and musician in his own right. His list of hit singles include "Valotte" and "Too late for Goodbyes." Lennon has been seen in several films including The Rolling Stones Rock and Roll Circus, Cannes Man, Imagine: John Lennon, Chuck Berry: Hail! Hail! Rock'n'Roll and had a cameo in Leaving Las Vegas. Julian provided the voice for the title role in the animated David Copperfield.

DIEGO LUNA
ACTOR

Diego Luna is the voice of the Boto, the mysterious pink dolphins of the Amazon jungle of Brazil.

Mexican teen heartthrob Luna had been acting in his homeland for a dozen years before he let it all hang out, literally, for the steamy Oscar-nominated Mexican hit Y Tu Mamá También. This hit, along with a series of childhood televova work, made Luna internationally known. Entering theatre at an extremely young age, Luna was practically born to be an actor. His father, a Mexican set designer who is one of the most acclaimed living theatre, cinema and opera set designers in Mexico and his mother who also worked in the industry, ensured Luna was immersed in the same field. In the American market, Luna has starred alongside Bon Jovi in Vampires: Los Muertos and the Academy Award-winning Frida. He is well known for his role in Milk, The Terminal with Tom Hanks and Dirty Dancing: Havana Nights. Luna just finished working on the film In the Playground and continues to work on many English and Spanish films.

CHEECH MARIN
ACTOR

Cheech Marin is the voice of a quirky Pacific Bottlenose dolphin bodysurfing and fishing for garfish with his buddy (performed by James Franco) on a remote beach in Cape Perrin, Western Australia.

Best known as one half of the hilariously irreverent, satirical, counter-culture, no-holds-barred duo Cheech and Chong, Cheech Marin is a paradox in the world of entertainment. The critically acclaimed duo made a fluid transition to films, starring in eight features together. The first, Up In Smoke, was the highest grossing comedy of 1978. Cheech is an actor, director, writer, musician, art collector and humanitarian, a man who has enough talent, humor and intelligence to do just about anything. Cheech wrote, directed, and starred in Universal's hit comedy Born In East L.A., which, in 1987, won the Glauber Rocha International Critics Award and Grand Coral Prize for Best Picture, as well as Best Screenplay at the Havana Film Festival. Cheech continued to act in a variety of hit films. He has also voiced characters in several Disney movies, including Oliver and Company, The Lion King and Cars. Cheech joins Whoopi Goldberg in Toy Story 3 as the voice of Lenny.

ISABELLA ROSSELLINI
ACTOR

Isabella Rossellini brings to life the beautiful spirit of the largest and most powerful dolphin in the world, the Orcas of British Columbia, Canada.

Daughter of Academy Award Winning actress Ingrid Bergman, Rossellini is an actress, filmmaker, author, philanthropist, and model. She is noted for the fourteen years as a Lancome model, and for her roles in films such as Blue Velvet, Death Becomes Her, Two Lovers and My Dog Tulip. Rossellini is also well known for Green Porno, a series of short films in which she wrote and co-directed with Jody Shapiro. Each Green Porno film is two minutes long, and has Rossellini reenacting the mating rituals of various animals. Rossellini received a 1987 Independent Spirit Award for Best Female Lead for her role in Blue Velvet. In 1997, she received two notable award nominations. She received a Golden Globe nomination for Best Performance by an Actress in a Mini-Series or Motion Picture Made for TV for her role in Crime of the Century and an Emmy Award nomination for Outstanding Guest Actress in a Drama Series for her work on the television series Chicago Hope.

Outside of acting and modeling, Rossellini is a strong environmental activist. She is a board member of the Wildlife Conservation Network and she is the president and director of the Howard Gilman Foundation, a leading institution focused on the preservation of wildlife, arts, photography and dance. Disney gave $100,000 to her to help with her conservation efforts in those two organizations.

DOLPHIN QUOTES

“In a world older and more complete than ours they move finished and complex, gifted with extensions of the senses that we have lost or never attained, living by voices we shall never hear. They are not brethren, they are not underlings, they are other nations, caught with ourselves in the net of life and time.”

-- Henry Beston

“Diviner than the dolphin is nothing yet created, for indeed they were aforesaid men and lived in cities along with mortals, but by the devising of Dionysus they exchanged the land for the sea and put on the form of fishes.”

-- Oppian, Greek Writer, 200 B.C.

“Dolphin societies are extraordinarily complex, and up to ten generations coexist at one time. If that were the case with man, Leonardo da Vinci, Faraday, and Einstein would still be alive.
